1 CEO Message

This Code of Conduct is primarily for workers of the Shire of Mingenew (including employees, volunteers and contractors), providing minimum standards of professional and personal behaviour that we, as an organisation, will accept. It shall guide how we act towards those we come in contact with in our personal and professional lives. As Shire employees, we are all in a position of trust and it is expected that we will undertake our duties to the best of our ability, promoting fairness, respect, and care for our workmates and stakeholders.

I want us to remember that we are ultimately all public servants, with ratepayer and taxpayer money paying our wages and purchasing our resources. We are accountable to the Public and, as Shire employees, we must:

- Act, and be seen to act, properly and in accordance with the requirements of the law and the terms of this Code;*
- Perform our duties impartially and in the best interests of the Shire and the community, uninfluenced by fear or favour;*
- Act in good faith (i.e. honestly, for the proper purpose and without exceeding powers) in the interests of the Shire and the community.*

Even though Mingenew is a relatively small, rural Shire I want us to aspire to 'punch above our weight' and demonstrate to our community and our stakeholders and neighbours that we are a forward-thinking and a professional organisation. Regardless of our role, this professionalism can be reflected in:

- Providing great internal and external customer service*
- Showing respect to each other and our stakeholders*
- Planning and thinking ahead so that we are proactive, rather than reactive*
- Taking pride in our work*
- Defending and maintaining the Shire's public image*
- Looking for, suggesting and implementing positive changes, new initiatives and improvements*
- Doing the right thing, even when nobody is watching*

It should be noted that this Code of Conduct is not a stand-alone document. Our organisational policies and procedures, along with relevant legislation, also assist us by providing parameters and guidance for our business activities and personal behaviour.

This Code of Conduct applies equally to all of us, and I am confident that by adopting these standards and applying our supporting policies, we can continue to build a stronger, smarter and happier organisation. I look forward to working with you to uphold our values, build trust within the organisation and continue to serve our community with the highest level of integrity and customer service.

Matt Fanning
Chief Executive Officer

2 Introduction

The Shire of Mingenew Code of Conduct (the Code) provides workers with clear guidelines for the standards of professional conduct expected of them in carrying out their functions and responsibilities.

The Code addresses the broader issue of ethical responsibility and encourages transparency and accountability. The Code expresses the Shire's commitment to high standards of ethical and professional behaviour and outlines the principles in which individual responsibilities are based.

The Code is complementary to the principles adopted in the Local Government Act 1995 (the Act) and associated regulations, which incorporate four fundamental aims:

- (a) better decision-making by local governments;
- (b) greater community participation in the decisions and affairs of local governments;
- (c) greater accountability of local governments to their communities; and
- (d) more efficient and effective local government.

2.1 Statutory environment

The Code addresses the requirement in section 5.51A of the Act for the CEO to prepare and implement a code of conduct to be observed by employees of the Local Government, and includes the matters prescribed in Part 4A of the Local Government (Administration) Regulations 1996.

The Code should be read in conjunction with the Act and associated regulations. Employees should ensure that they are aware of their statutory responsibilities under this and other legislation.

2.2 Application

For the purposes of the Code, the term employees include persons employed by the Shire of Mingenew or engaged by the Shire under a contract for services as well as volunteers and contractors. The Code applies to all workers, including the CEO, while on the Local Government's premises or while engaged in Local Government related activities.

Clause 3.15 of this Code (Gifts), does not apply to the CEO. Instead, the CEO is subject to the requirements of Part 5, Division 6 of the Act in relation to gifts. In particular, sections 5.71A and 5.71B of the Act define the CEO's obligations for disclosure and management of conflicts of interest arising from the acceptance of gifts, when providing advice or reports to Council either directly or indirectly.

3 Code of Conduct

3.1 Role of Employees, Volunteers and Contractors

The role of employees, volunteers and contractors in Local Government is determined by the functions of the CEO as set out in section 5.41 of the Act.

5.41. Functions of CEO

The CEO's functions are to:

- (a) advise the council in relation to the functions of a local government under this Act and other written laws;

- (b) ensure that advice and information is available to the council so that informed decisions can be made;
- (c) cause council decisions to be implemented;
- (d) manage the day to day operations of the local government;
- (e) liaise with the mayor or president on the local government's affairs and the performance of the local government's functions;
- (f) speak on behalf of the local government if the mayor or president agrees;
- (g) be responsible for the employment, management supervision, direction and dismissal of other employees (subject to section 5.37(2) in relation to senior employees);
- (h) ensure that records and documents of the local government are properly kept for the purposes of this Act and any other written law; and
- (i) perform any other function specified or delegated by the local government or imposed under this Act or any other written law as a function to be performed by the CEO.
